"Lollypop Bay" Will Be Staged Here March 30

Treble and Bass Clefs
To Present Operetta

The treble and bass clefs of Sequoia Union High School will present a comic operetta, "The Ghost of Lollypop Bay," by Charles Wakenfeld Cadman on March 30, in the high school auditorium. Jane Ingram and Floyd Harper have leading parts as Miss Lollypop and Professor Alvin. The plot of the play is centered.

Both own private schools on opposite sides of Lollypop Bay. Professor Flint often accompanies his boys on visits to the girls' school. Some of the girls find these visits very unsatisfactory and decide to masquerade as ghosts. The colored cook, Dinah, intent upon breaking up the school in order to be released from her contract, also decides to masquerade as a ghost. This results in much confusion in which Miss Steel and the professor find they are in love.

Others in the cast are: Mervin Jean Martin, Mary; one of the masqueraders, Carol Carrington, Midge; and Olga Laursen, Molly, Mary's chum; Jacqueline Bugge, Dinah, the colored cook; Eugene Bone, Dirk, a leader among the boys; Elmer Steinko, Harry; and Leslie Heald, Tom, Dirk's pal; Frank Archibald, Marcus Adam Johnson, a middle-aged negro; and the boys' and girls' choruses.

First National Bank Buys School Bonds

Offering the highest premium ever bid for 4 1/2% bonds in this county, the First National Bank of San Mateo county on Monday was the successful bidder for the $250,000 bonds of the Sequoia Union High School District. The bid of the First National Bank was the high bid of 13 bids opened before the board of supervisors of this county at their regular meeting Monday, and was accepted by the board.

The local bank bid $8115 premium on the bonds. Other bids offered were: United Bank and Trust Co., $7226; The Detroit Co., $6861; Crocker First National Bank, $6748; American National Co., $6388; R. H. Moulton Co., $6176, and Weeden & Co., $6261.

Sequoia Track Stars Show Improvement

Track conditions at Sequoia Union High School this year have developed rapidly after a rather slow start.

In the inter-class meets, the Juniors won by scoring 120 points to their nearest competitor, the sophomores, who collected 82 and 64 points for the trophs, who rated over the seniors with 61 points.

During these meets 14 of last year's interclass records were broken. In the unlimited division, Tom Honeyman, broad jumped 19 feet 11 inches, and stepped the furlong to the time of 25.1 for new records and Carl Peters ran the mile in 5:17.

In the unlimited meets, the remainder of the records were broken. In the 130-pound class, Bradley took the 220 in 27.1 on a slow track for a new record. Bradley pole vaulted 8 feet 10 inches. Walford broad jumped 15 feet 11 inches and tied with Bradley in the high jump at 6 feet 4 inches and Shearer heaved the discus 76 feet 2 inches for a new record.

In the 120-pound class, Richards, junior, broke the record for the quarter mile by racing in 1:36, a fairly fast time.

In the 110's, Marino was the out-standing star scoring 20 points. Yancey broke the high jump record by climbing the oz-one to the height of 4 feet 7 inches. By this showing the track team should be able to show much strength in the two P. A. L. meets, on April 14 and 21.

Miss Madeline Ross, who is soon to become the bride of Douglas Lampkin, was given a kitchen shower Friday evening by Miss Etta Clark at her home on Webster street. Games and dancing were enjoyed, and the young lady was given many presents for which she will find a future use. Those present were the Misses Madeline and Eda Ross, Inez Jamieson, Marcissa and Ana Walker, Rita Thomas, Anita Rogers and Etta Clark and Mesdames Phil Rogers, Kate Ross, Charles Padgett, S. J. Macaul and Charles Winning.

Couple Poisoned by Eating Mushrooms

Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith of Sequoia avenue had a narrow escape Wednesday evening when they mistook poison mushrooms for edible ones. The Smiths had to be removed to the Community hospital, where Mrs. Smith is still in a serious condition. Her husband was less affected by the fungi.

District Attorney Swart Exchange Club Speaker

Speaking before members of the Redwood City Exchange club Tuesday evening, District Attorney Franklin Swart spoke against the hasty judgement of events and individuals which result in mass meetings. Such meetings, called in anger and indignation usually produce harmful results. Swart stated, and accomplish little. He spoke in favor of a judgment which comes after thought and deliberation, rather than mob action.

Speaking of redistricting and the present agitation for a change in the form of the county government, he said, that it matters little what form the government may have as long as the officials who administer it are honest, capable and trustworthy.

The meeting "paid homage" to St. Patrick and Erin Isle, many Irish songs being sung. Inter-spersed with songs by Sam Euten, the genial young entertainer and comedian of Sequoia High School.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. W. H. Murphy.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon for Mrs. Anna Chapelon, who passed away yesterday morning at her home at 1076 El Camino Real. Services will be at the parlors of Layne & Tinney and will be followed by interment in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Chapelon was a native of France and was 78 years of age. She was the widow of the late John B. Chapelon, and is survived by a son, Jack Chapelon, of San Francisco, and by four daughters, Mrs. F. Williams, of this city, and Mrs. E. Hill, Mrs. E. M. Starking, Miss Ann Chapelon of San Francisco.

The Y. M. I. and the Y. L. I. will hold their annual dance in Foresters hall tomorrow night. Kendall Towne's orchestra will furnish catchy music. Come and have a delightful evening. Tickets are on sale at Ryan's Drug Store.

A number of friends of Miss Lois Zeiss, who is soon to be the bride of George Drivon, gathered at the home of Mrs. Magnani on Grant avenue to give the young lady a kitchen shower. Those present were Mesdames Mildred Casey, Wells Zeiss, mother of the bride-to-be, Miss Lois Zeiss, Miss Harriet Glidden, Miss Adelle Gough, Miss Minnie Gough, all of San Francisco; Mrs. Rose Panatieri of Burlingame, Mrs. Jeanette Eberle, Miss Margaret Casey, both of Oakland; Mrs. Palmira Drivon, Mrs. Laura Genocchio, Mrs. Chas. Meeting Held To Plan For Charter Move

AGGITATION STARTED FOR COUNTY CHARTER

A movement was started this week at a meeting in San Mateo toward a change in the government of this county. Advocates of a charter form of government met at the hotel Ben Franklin in San Mateo Tuesday, at which time an organization was effected. Future meetings were planned at which plans will be arranged to present the matter to the board of supervisors, and in the event of their refusal to call for the election of a board of freeholders then to place the matter before the people of the county as a referendum.

The meeting was called to order by John Daly, president of the Burlingame chamber of commerce, and Horace Amplett of San Mateo, was elected permanent chairman of the committee. Major Kirkbride of Burlingame was the chief speaker, and outlined the necessity for a more representative plan of government.

He outlined five points as representing the outstanding needs for county-wide action. These were: highways (mentioning especially the Bay Shore, the Ocean, and the De Las Pulgas or foot-hill highways), water supply, sanitary conditions, police and recreation. Kirkbride pointed out the great delay already needed arterial highways, advocated some protection in the future for an independent water supply, declared the present facilities for sewage disposal were antiquated, urged a more comprehensive system of county-wide police supervision to include the constables as active peace officers, and urged that under the classification of recreation that steps be taken at some future time to procure portions of the ocean shore beaches and bay shore beach as permanent public parks.

Kirkbride also advocated a system of electing supervisors, where by they would be nominated from districts and elected at large, thus combining the two ideas of representation.

The meeting was attended by 21 persons representing practically all parts of the county. E. B. Hinman, Asa Hull and Dan Flynn were present from Redwood City.

"Smilin' Thru" Is Complete Success

Allan Langdon Martin's play, "Smilin' Thru," had a very successful presentation before a filled auditorium Friday evening, March 9, bringing honors to the senior cast, the coach, Mrs. Bess Balcomb, and Miss Mary Cowden. Miss Anne Burns, who assisted her.

Teresa Blas and Lorin Denny, as Kathleen Dunganon and Kenneth Wayne, played the parts of the two lovers, whose affair was endangered by an event of fifty years before when Moon-yeen Clare, Bess Leggett, who was to become the bride of John Carteret, Tom Ambrose, was shot by rival lover, Jeremiah Wayne. Gerald Towne, causing John Carteret to curse young Kenneth Wayne, son of Jeremiah who desires to marry Carteret's niece, Kathleen.

However, with the aid of Dr. Owen Harding, Arthur Lampkin, life-long friend and partner of Carteret, and Moon-yeen, who comes to him in spirit, Carteret lets his better self come to the front and allows Kenneth Wayne Kathleen's hand.

The minor interpretations were made to stand out by Vera Clements as Ellen, the housekeeper. Paul Furbush, as Willie Ainsley, and Ellen Crawford, as Mary Clare, Moon-yeen's sister. Others in the play were Elizabeth Werthman, Esthere Miller, Ora Bloomquist, Eugene Bone, Leland Pence and Bill Warren, guests at the wedding.

The song, "Smilin' Thru," was featured by the Sequoia orchestra under the direction of Max L. Gelber, while throughout the play, harp accompaniment was played by Virginia Klassen. The stage crew made possible the effective setting of a flowering garden with an attractive house in the background.

Frank Allen, proprietor of the New Method Dyeing and Cleaning Works, was brought to his home here yesterday from the Community hospital where he has been for several weeks. His condition is reported to be very serious and little hope is expressed for his recovery.

SUPERVISORS DECIDE TO DENY FRANCHISE

At one of the biggest meetings ever held in the chambers of the San Mateo County board of supervisors, that body last Monday reversed its former action and denied a request presented by Attorney Albert Mansfield of this county for a bridge across the bay from Candlestick point in the northern part of this county to Oakland. The meeting was attended by almost the entire board of supervisors of San Francisco, and by Mayor Rolph of that city, who was called by Chairman Poole of the San Mateo board to a seat at his right.

Preliminary to opening the discussion on the matter, a resolution from the San Mateo city council was read urging the supervisors to take an unfavorable action on the petition.

Supervisor Brown moved that the former action of the board in granting a franchise for the bridge be reconsidered. This action was passed unanimously with out discussion.

Attorney Mansfield, representing the proponents of the bridge project stated in explanation, anent the presence of the San Francisco supervisors and the protests which had been received from San Francisco interests, that in making an application for a bridge franchise that he would do nothing which would hinder San Francisco in its efforts to secure from the War department a permit for a bridge from Rincon Hill in San Francisco to Oakland. But that if the franchise were granted to him by this county that he would gladly await the final outcome of the San Francisco matter before going before the War department in Washington himself for a permit.

After the motion for reconsideration of the matter had been passed, Supervisor Brown moved that the franchise granted at the previous meeting be rescinded. Supervisor Hickey rose and explained his attitude in the matter. Hickey stated that while he operated with San Francisco he would not do so at the expense of the people of this county. He believed that the bridge for which a franchise had been granted would be a great benefit to this county as well as to San Francisco. He had, he stated, measured the distance from the intersection of Geary street and 24th in San Francisco to the proposed bridge and found it to be 8 miles. The distance from the same place to the bridge which San Francisco is trying to secure at Rincon point is 10 miles.

Hickey was followed by Supervisor Francis of Halfmoon Bay, who had also voted in favor of the franchise at the previous meeting. Francis stated that he had voted as he did for the reason that there had been so much delay in securing aid from San Francisco on the proposed coastside road.

Others opposing the granting of the franchise and asking its immediate denial were J. J. McGath and Mrs. E. McGinn of San Mateo, and George Dunn, Halfmoon Bay newspaper man. The motion that the permit be denied passed unanimously.

The motion that the franchise be rescinded was then put before the board and passed unanimously.

Services Held Yesterday For Mrs. W. Orton

Pioneer Resident
Passes Away in Menlo

Last rites over the remains of Mrs. Lucy Orton, wife of W. E. Orton, a pioneer resident of San Mateo county, were performed in the James Crowe mortuary chapel yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. Interment was in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Orton passed away at the Palo Alto hospital following a lingering illness Tuesday night last. She was born at Summit Springs, probably better known as King's Mountain, sixty-six years ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cooney, came across the Isthmus of Panama in the fifties and located in the mountain section of San Mateo county in 1852. As a girl she attended the Seaville school, then located where the Seaville lake was afterwards constructed. The land for the school was donated by the late William Lloyd. Miss Orton was a skillful equestrienne riding every day to her studies. Those of her schoolmates now living are, George Eikenrocker, W. J. Murray and J. J. Murray. Menlo Park, James Rapley, Atherton.

Mrs. Orton was one of the early communicants of the old St. Dennis church and often delighted in telling of the congregation that gathered in the church on the Sunday mornings of long ago. Her father was engaged in the lumber business and took an active interest in county affairs in the sixties.

Cooney and Larry Kelly, another pioneer of Seaville, became close friends. Where one went the other was sure to go. They were inseparable. Even in death the two old comrades sleep together in graves close by united by a shaft bearing the word, "Friendship," in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park.

Mrs. Orton loved her county and state and was one of the early members of Bonita Parlor N. D. W., under whose auspices the funeral rites were held. She took a great interest in the parlor, always attending the meetings and assisting the parlor in every way.

Forty years ago she married W. E. Orton, then engaged in the lumber business at Seaville. The union has been a very happy one, she being the devoted wife and loving mother. A son, George Orton, died some years ago, which caused much sorrow to the family. He was a bright young man with a promising future. Another son, John Orton, a veteran of the late war, and his father, W. E. Orton, survive. Both have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Mrs. Orton was also a member of General George S. Evans Relief Corps, in which society she took a deep interest. The corps attended the funeral in a body.

Hi. School Notes

Otis M. Carrington, Sequoia's choral instructor, plans to attend the national music convention in Chicago which will begin April 16, continuing for two weeks.

The Sequoia Girls' board of Athletic Control will be hostesses to about fifty girls from the fourteen schools in the Girls' Peninsula Athletic League for the week-end May 12 at San Mateo Memorial Park.

To Work in Behalf of Bay Bridge at Capitol

Supervisor John W. Poole and Mr. Poole departed last evening for Washington, D. C., with the San Francisco board of supervisors and Mayor Rolph to be present at the capitol when the San Francisco bridge matter comes up for hearing before a committee of 31 congressmen on March 21.

Supervisor McSheehy, chairman of the Bridge Committee of San Francisco, said Mr. Poole a signal honor in inviting him to make the trip. He desired his influence as chairman of the county board of supervisors of San Mateo county. This is the first time in the history of the Third township that a supervisor has been sent to the national capitol to influence legislation favorable to this section.

The popular supervisor during his short term in office has demonstrated his ability and good judgment as a road builder and a conservative legislator. He has made a splendid chairman, has been fair and impartial in his dealings with the other members of the board. He has done more road work in his district in the past time he has been in office than has been done in years before. He has merited the honor that has come to him unasked.

Supervisor Francis of Halfmoon Bay and Mrs. R. Brown of San Mateo will also accompany him on the expedition that will storm the capitol.

Saint Patrick's Entertainment Will Draw Large Crowd

The St. Patrick's entertainment in the Church of the Nativity hall tonight will draw a large crowd from all parts of the peninsula, as a good program replete with Irish songs, monologues and Gaelic dancing, and Irish skits and farces will certainly regale the big crowd that will be there. Sharkey's orchestra will furnish the music. Many artists from Redwood City will take part in the program.

Mrs. Miles Sharkey is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for a card party to be given at the Foresters hall next Thursday by Bonita Parlor Native Daughters.

Registration Shows
Large Gain in County

The time for registering for the municipal elections closed last Saturday. County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese has compiled the vote which shows a big gain over two years ago. The total registration to date is 21,747. Divided by township is as follows:

CALIFORNIA
NEWS BRIEFS

Rejection of all bids by California oil companies for gasoline and oil supplies to State-owned automobiles operating without a fixed base was announced a few days ago by W. G. McMillin, State Purchasing Agent. McMillin's action was taken because the bids were all too high and were nearly identical. The State will readvertise. The business aggregates $80,000 annually.

A $150,845.60 contract for highway work in Imperial county was awarded to the John & Bressi Construction Company of Los Angeles county a few days ago by Bert B. Meek, State director of public works.

California inspected 8,148 ships and 1,497 fishing boats during 1927 in port inspection work enforcing quarantines against introduction of dangerous agricultural pests. The work included inspection of 6,153,431 parcels of plants and plant products, according to George H. Hecke, State director of agriculture, and 2,600 insect pests, including many not now existing in California, were intercepted.

Reflecting the rapidity with which California's water resources are being harnessed for the development of agriculture, industry and domestic life, Harold Conkling, chief of the division of water rights, department of public works, last week reported that $90,665,861 in water projects were authorized by his department in 1927. In all there were 243 development permits issued.

The six Folsom Thanksgiving Day rioters a few days ago pleaded not guilty to the second charge of murder filed against them in connection with their uprising and will go on trial before Superior Judge J. R. Hughes at Sacramento on March 26. The convict sextet is accused of the murder of George "Red" Baker, Folsom trusty shot down during the mutiny last November.

California's county budget system, provided for by the last Legislature, is probably the best local budgeting plan in America, according to Alexander R. Heron, State director of finance. Under the new budget law boards of supervisors are required to prepare a financial set-up showing all sources of income and proposed expenditures. The plan is similar to that followed by the State government.

The activities of the surveyor general's office between July 1, 1925, and February 2, 1928, netted the State $221,219.45 in school moneys and funds for its other functions, Surveyor General W. S. Kingsbury reported recently. The sale of public lands turned over to the State by the government in lieu of the two sections per township set aside for schools netted the State $128,936.87. These sales were at the rate of $6.50 per acre. In addition the sale of school lands at public auction netted $66,919.60, while rent and royalties on mineral lands netted $25,312.98.

The largest commercial ship built on the Pacific Coast since 1922 was launched last week at the Potrero plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at San Francisco. The vessel, the Waiwaleale, was built for the Interisland Steam Navigation Company of Honolulu at a cost of $1,500,000 for the passenger service between the various islands of the Hawaiian group. The Waiwaleale is 310 feet long with a beam of forty-eight feet and is equipped with twin screw turbine engines of 2,000 horsepower each.

Not less than 2,200,000 names on the great register of California for the presidential primaries this Spring is the expectation of Charles Hagerty, State election statistician in the office of Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. If Hagerty's predictions are verified, the record will exceed any other registration total by approximately 300,000, or 16 per cent. And with such colorful candidates as Al Smith and Senator Reed and Herbert Hoover making the race, Hagerty is confident that the vote also may establish a new high mark in State politics.

The United States government has flatly refused to participate in the cost of the Klamath river bridge, erected with "faulty construction" during the administration of former Governor Friend W. Richardson, and has demanded that California return $120,000 in federal aid funds advanced on the project. The division of highways, State department of public works, so announced a few days, declaring that the present administration has fallen heir to difficulties which were described as involving the structure since the day of its dedication by former Governor Richardson in 1926. The announcement said notice of the federal government's position has been formally served on California highway authorities.

Plans for establishment of another airplane passenger service through Bakersfield with twelve passenger cabin planes operating within the next week were announced at Bakersfield last week by Howard Nicholas, chairman of the Kern County Airport Commission. The Maddux Corporation is operating a regular passenger service between Los Angeles and San Diego at the present time, and before March 15th will open the line between the southern cities and San Francisco, with two daily stops at Bakersfield airport.

Steady progress is being made by the State legislative council bureau in complying with the direction of the legislature for a codification of California law, according to a letter received from Fred B. Wood, legislative counsel, at Washington, by Major J. S. Leymel, author of the resolution requiring the cataloging of the statutes. An indication that a new post will be created to keep the laws constantly codified was given in the letter by Wood, who called attention to the fact that such an officer is a part of the governmental scheme in Massachusetts, Wisconsin and Ohio.

Fearing that convicts were plotting a prison break as desperate as that which took a dozen lives at Folsom on Thanksgiving Day, guards at the San Quentin Penitentiary last week were searching the entire prison for weapons. The prison officials declined to comment on the investigation, but it was learned that they had been "tipped off" that several guns and many knives were secreted in the prison.

Three young boys and girls now receiving treatment in the University of California hospital in San Francisco, and a fourth soon to come to the hospital, are receiving complete support from Rotary Clubs of the State according to a survey just made. San Francisco Rotary Club is supporting two, Fresno is supporting one, and Napa is supporting the other.

Indicative of the general prosperity enjoyed by California in 1927 is a new record in bond issues approved by the State Corporation Department, according to a statement made at Sacramento by John L. Davis, executive secretary to the department. The total amount of bond issues approved was $224,807,800 as compared with the preceding high mark of $198,314,257 in 1926.

Schedules of motor bus lines on California highways shall hereafter not require speeds greater than the limits fixed in the State motor vehicle act, according to a bulletin received from the State Railroad Commission. All automobile passenger stage companies were notified in a commission general order issued by Secretary H. G. Mathewson to file with the commission their time schedules, which, in no instance, shall require operation of busses in excess of speed limits fixed in the State law.

A Los Angeles county traffic ordinance amendment making it a misdemeanor to carry animals on the outside part of any automobile driven on a public highway without protecting the animals against being thrown off will become effective March 20. The ordinance was adopted recently by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors on suggestion of the State Commission for Protection of Children and Animals.

With 20,858.82 acres of city and county parks, California stands first in such park space among the ten most populous states. This is the statement of the Playground and Recreation Association. New York state ranks second to California with 19,675.12 acres; Texas is third with 15,531.83 and Massachusetts is fourth with 14,675.15 acres.

With $76,300,916.01 in the State treasury, California is well situated financially, according to a report of State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, made public last week. The report apportions the State's wealth as follows: Certificates of deposit $39,643,300; actual deposits bearing 2 per cent, $7,900,061.09; exchange $28,720,535.24; currency $36,013; silver $988,30; nickels and pennies $18.38.

Six more representatives in Congress from California are promised in a plan for reapportionment of the House membership approved last week by the House census committee, according to Associated Press dispatches from Washington. The reapportionment is to be made upon the basis of the next census, to be taken in 1930. There was no change in the House membership under the 1920 census, although the Constitution provides for a reapportionment upon the basis of population of each State during each ten-year census period.

The State Department of Industrial Relations is attempting to bring together California's labor leaders and the leaders of those who employ labor in working out plans for new laws at the 1929 session of the Legislature. The attempt, already in partially a success, according to a statement by Will J. French, departmental director, revealing that the representatives of employers and employees have agreed to meet in conference with State officials in an effort to avert confusion.

The initiative petition for the repeal of California's so-called "boxing law," which permits commercial prize-fighting, will be ready for circulation within a few weeks, it was announced last week by Fred E. Parr, San Francisco business man and president of the California State Church Federation. "The petition is now being drafted in Los Angeles," Parr declared. "Attorneys say that it may take several days for completion, and after that the petition must be approved by the attorney general before being circulated."

In speeding up the California highway program, projects on which free labor will be used will be given priority over those employing convict labor, Director of Public Works B. B. Meek announced last week. Of the $50,000,000 to be spent on highways in the two-year period from July 1, 1927, all but $600,000 will go for wages or payments for supplies made by free labor. In addition to the $600,000 of State funds, convict labor projects will have $2,500,000 of Federal aid money, Meek said.

California's total bank deposits aggregate $2,750,000,000, according to official figures compiled at San Francisco by W. Espey Albright, deputy manager of the American Bankers' Association. Of this total, approximately $1,750,000,000 represents savings accounts to the credit of three million depositors. "California," Albright explained, "is one of the most prosperous states in the Union. The per capita savings totaling $390, compares favorably even with the much older and more conservative communities of New England, where people are traditionally thrifty."

California took its first step toward conservation of the State's natural gas and oil resources with the announcement a few days that the entire Ventura oil field will be shut down. The agreement to close the field was made at a joint meeting of Governor Young's gas conservation committee, appointed last October, and the oil operators' general committee. At the close of the meeting, Fred G. Stevenot, chairman of the governor's committee, declared: "Within 48 hours we will have 'shut in' 70,000 to 80,000 barrels of oil a day and 100,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day."

Moore to Play His Real Game

WHILE there has never been as much said or written of Eddie Moore as there has of the famous trio, Kremer, Wright and Cuyler, that broke in with him in the year 1924, yet it is a fact, none the less, that Moore played a greater game of ball than any of the above-mentioned trio that year. Afterwards, all three of them moved pretty steadily ahead to stardom, while Eddie Moore, the real star of that wonderful 1924 Pirate team, somehow faded out and then faded out of the limelight.

Eddie's batting activities averaged 359 that year, four points ahead of the mighty Cuyler and a far distance ahead of the other two heroes, Wright and Traynor. Then Moore played in three different positions during that ball season, outfield, second and also third base. Only a game boy with a natural born playing talent of a most unusual order could have flashed such a record as that on the 1924 baseball screen.

Funny thing about Moore. He fell back in his batting the next season to 298. Then the next year he dropped to 250. Playing regularly at second base in 1925, the year the Pirates won the league flag and the world championship, Moore played just a fair brand of ball; nothing to compare to his record of the previous year. They said it was temperamental. During the 1925 series Moore was supposed to have been at odds with the team, and, after playing poorly in the first four games he was called and came through gamely in the pinches. But the next year he slipped back so badly that he was released to Boston in a trade that did not involve much cash or playing material from the Boston end.

Eddie Moore.

His batting punch of 359 in 1924 had slumped to 250 in 1925, a fall of over 100 points. Moore claims that he had a bad shoulder. In 1925 and that it affected his playing enough to account for his failure to come up to his form of the previous year. And then, early in 1926 he says he tore the ligaments loose from the bone at the ankle and simply could not play his game. He was also in the hospital that year with pneumonia. Outside of these little things Moore was all right that bad year.

Playing 112 games in various positions for the Boston team last year Eddie Moore hit just over the coveted 300 mark. Moore says he is happy in his present berth and that his bungled-up leg is sound again. He declares that third base is his natural position, but he can play right well in the field. He does not claim to be a second baseman at all. They are doing a lot of figuring on the Braves board of strategy on where to place Moore to the best advantage next spring. They are hoping and even expecting that this slashing hitter of 1924 will get into the state of mind and body to play his real game. Even on his present form he is a very handy guy to have hanging around for he can knock out .300 and play the infield and the outfield equally well.

Scintillating Remarks by Noisy Detroit Fans

In relating the baseball expressions for which Hughie Jennings was famous, one has been generally overlooked, and that was:

"Touch all the bases."

At times he emphasized it:

"Remember now: Touch all the bases."

It was always shouted across the playing field when a Detroit batsman came to the plate in a pinch.

If the batter happened to strike out, or fly out, or ground out, the crowd, if Detroit happened to be playing on a foreign field, had its revenge. The crowd, in chorus, would yell to Jennings:

"See him touch all the bases, Hughie!"

Or quite often:

"Hey, Hughie, that bum can't even touch first."

And similar scintillating remarks. But Jennings generally had his innings before the game was over. Sooner or later Rossman, Cobb or Crawford, would "get hold of one" and touch several bases while Jennings shrieked and danced in glee, fully revenged.

Big Train Beats Sport Boys at Their Own Game

In leaving the ranks of active baseball players, as in leading them, Walter Johnson thought first of the boys. Reporters and friends were eagerly awaiting his decision whether to sign the contract with the Newark Bears of the International league. All day his telephone was ringing or "busy." All day he replied that he probably would have "something to say in a few days."

But that night he was making a little talk over the radio to boys. When he felt their presence on the invisible side of the microphone he told them all about it. Not many of them realized they were getting a choice news "beat."

Not until the radio station had signed off were the reporters and friends able to get the "Big Train" to own up that he had signed to manage the Bears.

Doctor Little Tries

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University of Michigan, took time off recently to join with university students in winter sports. For the first time since he arrived in Ann Arbor two years ago, Doctor Little tried his ability on skis. He confessed that he had no experience in the art and said that snowshoeing was more in his line. Onlookers said that he displayed "unique" ability for an amateur, but is not expected to enter any tournament.

FARRELL BOOSTS OLD ATHLETES

Old-Timers' Work Praised by Michigan Coach.

Would the athletes of 15 and 20 years ago hold their own against the athletes of today under present day conditions? Certainly they would, in the opinion of Steve Farrell, varsity of Michigan, who has been training all sorts of athletes for more than 25 years.

Steve believes that the modern athlete has things too easy. Walking any distance is unthought of by the average star today, while years ago, riding in street cars, cabs and busses was taboo with any aspiring college athlete. Coach Farrell admits, of course, that the increased dislike for using one's leg to travel between two given points is only the result of the attitude of college students as a body.

Training room attention, says the coach, was a thing unknown in years gone by. Shin splints, sore muscles and tendons and other ailments were just as common in those days, but were ignored, just because there was nothing one could do about it. Today, for the average athlete, the care of expert trainers and rubbers is considered as essential as good coaching.

If the average track man today, for instance, says Steve, were to be told how the track men used to train years ago, he would laugh. The "hard work-out" which the present day track man fears would be considered only a preliminary warming up in those days. Any man who stayed out for the sport then did so because he liked it.

The aversion of the modern youth for stiff work is shown by the increasing proportion of candidates who select the shorter running distance events, and shun the mile and two-mile runs. The latter require long work-outs daily, and unless the candidate is a glutton for punishment, he drops from the squad or decides he'd make a better short-distance man.

Steve does not go so far as to say that the athlete of yesterday was any more plucky than the present athlete. He merely infers that their bodies were sturdier, because of more intensive training, and they were more valuable to any team as all-around athletes than the modern stars as specialists in one or two events.

To sum up, the coach feels that given the present advantages of scientific coaching and training, as well as improved tracks and other facilities, the athlete of the past would have little difficulty in outstripping, out-jumping or outdistancing the average "star" of today.

Breaks World's Mark

The photograph shows Walter Lauffer, the Lake Shore Athletic club's new swimmer, who slashed four seconds from the world's 150-yard backstroke, record as he made his debut at the Central A. A. U. women's meet in the Lake Shore pool in Chicago. His time was 1 minute 40 4/5 seconds.

Errors as Essential to Baseball as Base Hits

John Joseph McGraw once said that errors are as essential to baseball as base hits and that if ever the error is removed from the game then baseball will collapse.

McGraw can say the same about football. Most of the thrills on football are the result of errors, mechanical or mental.

There would be nothing more monotonous in sport than a football game between two teams whose play was mechanically perfect. It would leave the spectators bored stiff.

Illinois and Michigan played a game at Ann Arbor last year. It was about as near mechanically correct as games are played in football, but it made no hit with the crowd. The experts were highly enthused, but the experts were outnumbered 500 to 1 by men and women who were completely bored.

San Francisco Player Cost $38; Brings $5,000

Even in these days of high-priced baseball players, with figures running from $5,000 to $15,000 in the minor leagues, the case of Alfred McCurdy stands out in bold relief.

The tall first baseman cost the Portland club $38.71—train fare and meals from San Francisco to the Oregon city. He was picked up on the "sand lots," played with the Pacific Coast league team in 1926 and 1927 and was sent to Des Moines of the Western league this year in a $5,000 cash and player deal.

Tad Jones at Yale

Tad Jones, late to Yale as coach of the football team, will return as chairman of the graduate advisory committee of football for 1928. The board of control of the Yale Athletic association has announced the appointment. As chairman of the advisory committee Jones automatically becomes a member of the board of control and as such will have considerable say as to the choice of his successor as coach of the varsity grid team.

Wet-But It Burned

USUALLY, when material is wet—thoroughly soaked—there is no need to worry about the possibility of fire. There's a "joker" in the pile though, when hay is the subject of wetting!

A barn located in New Hampshire, during the flood in November, 1927, was particularly wet, being partially submerged. And it contained hay! The owner started to remove the hay when the water had subsided sufficiently, but spontaneous combustion beat him to it. Result—the barn burned to the ground.

Spontaneous combustion is perhaps the least understood of all causes of fire. That's probably the reason why it does so much damage (over $15,000,000 in 1926, according to figures computed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.)

Take your own home for instance. How about that cellar, that attic and that garage? Don't forget the clothes closets either! Remove any piles of rags, paper or rubbish. Such materials may be oily or wet without your knowledge. If so, look out! You may wake up in the middle of the night and wonder how you ever got into such a hot place. Better look around now before any damage is done.

Restrictive Immigration

GRADUALLY the public is awakening to the dangers of the tide of immigration to this country and are attempting to stem the subtle efforts of the opposition to a restrictive policy before it is too late. The main attack of the latter has been upon the Immigration Act of 1924, and numerous measures have been introduced into Congress to undermine the strength of its provisions. They succeeded in postponing for one year the enactment of the national origins clause of the act, which was supposed to have been put into effect last July and, as the time for its enactment again draws near, it is contended that the provisions of this clause are not practical and that it is not possible to determine the quotas of the different countries upon such a basis.

The question of extending the quota law to Mexico and the Latin-American countries has also recently been discussed in Congress, and Representative John C. Box, of Texas, has introduced a bill to that effect. The rapid increase of immigration from Mexico in the last few years has caused alarm. According to reliable statistics, it swelled from 15,000 in 1914 to 60,000 in 1926 and last year approached the 70,000 mark. The contention is that the farmers of the Southwest would be hindered in obtaining labor if such a bill were passed, but recent figures showing the large number of unemployed in this country make the possibility of a scarcity of labor seem hardly probable.

It does not require a great strain upon the imagination to vision, even at the rate aliens are now entering the United States, an overpopulated country in the future, consisting of peoples of divided interests and allegiances; a large number of unemployed, lowering the average wages and standard of living; a conglomeration of citizens of different languages and nationalities, or, in other words, destruction. Such a calamity can best be avoided by restrictive immigration and a sufficient personnel to see that the immigration laws are strictly enforced.

Just suppose...

SAN MATEO COUNTY LOW IN SCHOOL COSTS

Elementary Education Lowest in San Mateo County of Entire State

By CLEM WHITAKER
Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO, March 15—

What price education? It depends, voters and taxpayers, largely on where you live. The cost of education has doubled in some departments and tripled in others during the past decade, reports William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, but Cooper believes that the preparation given young California has improved correspondingly.

In the state generally, the average youngster of school age costs the taxpayers $68.52 per year, during the time he is securing the first rudiments of education in the kindergarten.

When the same child goes into the elementary schools, the cost of educating him has jumped to $97.01 per year.

And when he reaches high school the annual expenditure required for his education, according to the state average, has soared to $190.19.

Writers and Judges Head Delegations

Evidently the who's who, who get up lists of political delegates take the stage seriously that "the pen is mightier than the sword," for we find Gertrude Atherton heading the Democratic delegation for Al Smith for president, while Kathleen Norris heads the rival McAdoo ticket pledged to Senator Walsh.

At any rate, as the tri-cornered Democratic fight wages thick and hot we can expect to see them "saying it with ink."

Which reminds one of the judicial trend of the Democratic delegations. Judge J. J. Tribucco, famous for the speed with which he conducted the Hickman kidnapping murder case, is prominently listed as a delegate-at-large on the Smith ticket, as is also Judge J. A. Bardin of Salinas; while Judge M. F. McFarland of Fresno represents the 7th district on the Walsh list. And the Reed ticket may be considered judicially-minded with Mrs. Edna Purkitt Knight of Willows, a relative of Judge Claude Purkitt, representing that dyed-in-the-wool Democratic family.

State Plans Aid for Old Employees

(By Capitol News Bureau)
SACRAMENTO, March 15—Comfort and consideration for those who grow gray in the state's service is promised today as the result of the conference held this week by the State Civil Service Commission with representatives of the State Employees Association.

"Jack" Stafford, veteran clerk of the Third District Court of Appeals, was spokesman for the employees, and recommended a plan whereby the state and the employee would contribute fifty-fifty to a retirement salary fund.

SEQUOIA BOY STARS IN JUNIOR COLLEGE COMEDY

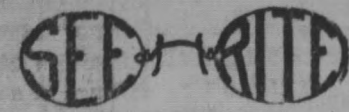

Bill Leggett, a graduate of the Sequoia Union High School, will have a leading role in the three-act comedy, "Captain Applejack," to be staged by the San Mateo Junior College this evening. Leggett will be seen tonight as the leader of a brave but piratical crew of mutineers. The comedy is declared to be exceptionally clever and has a cast which assures it success. It will be staged at the Junior College auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening.

Mayor Rolph Reported Governor Aspirant

(By Capitol News Bureau)
SACRAMENTO, March 15—"The line forms on the right," gubernatorially speaking. And the list of would-be governors, if put out to end, would reach—well, you figure it out.

This is by way of announcing that Mayor James Rolph, Jr. of San Francisco, affectionately known as "Sunny Jim," is the latest entry rumored along the political trail.

Rolph, incidentally, will be a formidable candidate, if he starts. And his friends say that he's already zipped on the self-starter. In 1918, with the field split like a Democratic convention, Rolph mastered the greatest popular vote, but was edged out by failure to receive the nomination of his own party.

Telephone Company Offers Home Hints

Close attention to the most minute details is characteristic of modern home planning. Gone are the days when a staunch foundation and bare room were alone thought of in constructing a fine house.

Convenience, comfort and increased value, rather than depreciation, throughout the years, are the incentives prompting present and prospective home owners to provide for telephone, gas water and electrical services at the time of construction. This procedure enhances the value of a home by keeping it always up to date, and making unnecessary the cutting of holes in walls and partitions to permit service extensions to various rooms, from time to time.

The telephone company constantly carries on studies of the best ways to provide for telephone wiring and accessories, at the time of planning and construction. The latest phases of the subject are described in the company's new booklet, "In Your Building Plans—Remember Telephone Service." Copies are available at the local telephone business office.

Incumbents Win In Belmont Election

Both incumbent candidates for places on the board of trustees of the Belmont Sanitary District succeeded in being re-elected at the election held Monday. The winners were C. J. Messner with 164 votes and Dr. Harry Warren, who got 144 votes. The other candidates for trustee were C. L. Jordan with 133 votes and L. G. Vannier with 115.

The election was rather a hotly contested one, and the vote was large for the district. In the race for clerk of the district Henry

Just as healthful rain purifies the atmosphere so melting ICE purifies air in the refrigerator

Ever step outdoors just after a brisk shower of rain? Remember the exhilarating sense of buoyancy and freshness that came with every breath of cool, crisp air?

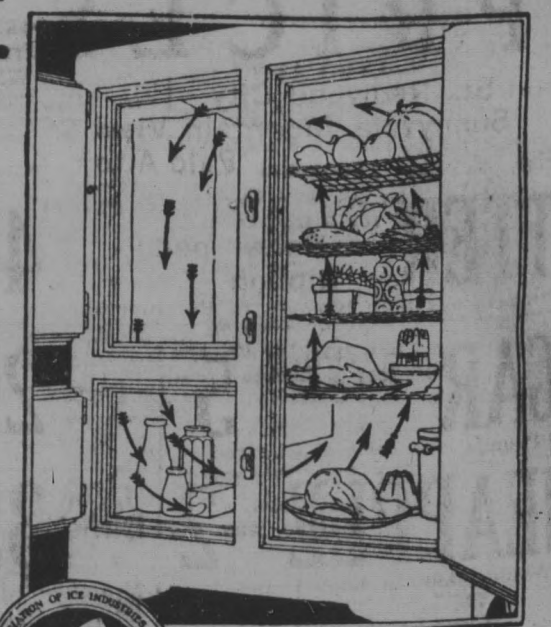

It is a scientific fact that rain washes from the air much of the dust and soot, the floating dirt particles and other impurities, leaving the air pure and clean.

In the same way, melting ice "washes" the air in a refrigerator, sweetens and purifies it. The circulating air picks up odors and impurities, which are absorbed by the moisture and washed away down the drain. It takes melting ice to do this.

Ice always works automatically. When the air is warmer, the ice melts faster and thus keeps the temperature just right. When the air is cooler, the ice melts more slowly, but maintains the same degree of coldness. The air is always kept moving, is always kept cool and clean. All you have to do is to keep the ice chamber of your refrigerator well filled.

Ask Your Ice Man
An efficient refrigerator is one of the greatest household economies. Keep it well iced the year around, and you will save food, save flavor, save doctor bills. Your ice company are experts in household refrigeration. They will gladly recommend an efficient refrigerator or sell you one at the lowest possible price, with terms. Just "ask your ice man."

As the ice melts, it causes the air to circulate, picking up the odors and impurities which are then absorbed by the moisture and carried off down the drain.

Governor's Daughters Interested Spectators

BY ESTO BROUGHTON
Staff Correspondent
SACRAMENTO, March 15.—Following in Dad's footsteps is the confined to the sons of the state in these modern days; a few daughters are "taking the air."

For instance, Governor Young's two daughters are his two daughters, Barbara and Lucille, in lieu of sons. They are expected to carry on politically.

At an age when most girls are playing around with their "boy friends" Barbara, a co-ed, and Lucille, a sub-flapper, are studying the state government at first hand. What care they if more frivolous flappers head for the footlights or at least, the Klieg lights; the young Youngs seem content to bask in the reflected gubernatorial limelight. And they haven't missed a trick in state life, at that, since "Dad" took the oath of office. From greeting "Lindy" when "We" made the famous air pilgrimage to the west, to sitting out unendurably long cabinet meetings, the Misses Young are right there.

But in some ways they are old-fashioned children, or else the parental injunction "to be seen and not heard," coupled with gubernatorial orders, has weight. For they do not speak their minds, at least, in meeting. Apparently, they are also disproving the maxim that "a woman can not keep a secret," for to-date no diplomatic messages have "leaked" through. If they are curious, they are also discreet.

State Reapportionment May Cause Confusion

All ready to run but not sure of the home base seems to be the plight of most of the legislators. It has looked like "Old Home Week" in the statehouse lately with legislators flocking in for advice on "Shall I run in my old district?" "If not where?" "When will the new reapportionment act take effect, if ever?" "If I am elected in my old district and the Boggs Act is passed in November, do I get the job as legislator?" And nobody has the last word. That belongs to the State Supreme Court on a writ of mandate proceedings brought by Senator Boggs to defeat the submission of the Boggs Act reappointment of the legislative districts in accordance with the Farm Bureau Amendment. This would give control of the Senate to the rural districts. If the court decides against Boggs it goes on the ballot next November.

Coastside Rum King Nears End of Rope

As the result of a shot fired, presumably by a former associate in the illicit booze traffic, Joe Parente, known as the rum king of the coastside, is near death in a hospital in British Columbia. Parente left for Canada some months ago, following his arrest on the Skyline road by federal officers. He was released following his leaving the country. Since that time he has been a fugitive from justice, and has been fighting efforts for his extradition to the United States for trial.

It is claimed that Parente tricked his former henchmen out of 25,000 which he used to make his escape. It is said that they tried him to Canada once, but returned to San Francisco with the promise that they would find the money waiting for them. It was not forthcoming, so they made a second trip and would have killed their former chieftain had not the landlady interfered. Parente made his escape.

The desperados learned that he was in British Columbia and made a third trip. This time they cornered him and seriously wounded him, according to the report. Officials are now busy checking up on the various hospitals in British Columbia in an effort to find their man.

TO BROADCAST SERIES OF PENINSULA TRIPS
"Week-ending with Billy and Jim" is the title of a series of features to be broadcast over Radio KYA in San Francisco through the courtesy of the Howard Automobile Company of San Francisco. The series is being prepared by Roscoe Wyatt, secretary of the San Mateo County Chamber of Commerce, and will feature trips through the scenic regions of the peninsula.

No exaggeration to say socks are a big thing with us. And this message is intended for women as well as men.

For certainly the women buy enough hose for men to appreciate our careful attention to them. "Them" meaning the ladies as well as the hose.

We believe that careful service is as important as carefully selected socks.

Flower Display to be Placed in Ferry Building

Beauty of San Mateo County Flowers Well Known in East

Peninsula residents of San Mateo county will wish to know that the San Mateo County Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of the California Development Association, arranged to have a floral display in the display window at the entrance of the Ferry building on the second floor of the Ferry building in San Francisco recently. The E. W. McEllan Company, one of the leading florist firms of the west, had charge of the installation of the exhibit which appeared simultaneously with the publication of President Fred H. Drake's article in the California Development Journal on March 5th.

It is learned through Roscoe D. Wyatt, manager of the county chamber of commerce that the article is being sent to 110 leading newspapers in California and many in other states as well as magazines of national distribution. The story of San Mateo County Floral Industry is well illustrated with photographs of flowering fields on California's picturesque peninsula.

In part it is as follows:

Huge Rose Garden
Each month in the year visitors to California see some flower in season here, and their friends at home in every state, see floral visitors from California—from San Mateo county. The chrysanthemum center of the whole country is found in the vicinity of Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont with their 300 acres devoted to chrysanthemums and astors. The double violet center of the west is in the Halfmoon Bay section. The single violet center is near Colma, where 40 acres of violets can be seen. At Colma also will be found 20 greenhouses devoted exclusively to maidenhair and asparagus ferns.

Almost in the heart of Burlingame one grower has 10 acres of roses under glass with an equal acreage near Colma. Beattie Boston's famous dahlia farm on El Camino Real at San Mateo, ships bulbs to remote parts of the world. Nearby is an 80-acre heather field for cutting. Fifty acres of highly colored strawflowers find their pastoral habitat near Halfmoon Bay. A single firm shipped 125,000 bunches of strawflowers to eastern markets in one season.

Climate Adds Beauty

In San Mateo county is found the largest and most modern greenhouse in the United States. In it you may drive your car among the hundreds of thousands of rose bushes, the planting of which was made profitable by the demands of the Los Angeles and Pasadena markets.

Perhaps you can now realize that this $20,000,000 industry in San Mateo county contributes greatly to San Francisco's preeminence as a cut-flower center. It is our good fortune to possess ideal climatic conditions on California's picturesque Peninsula, where a superior quality of flowers can be produced and this fact, aided by the care exercised by shippers in packing, by the co-operation of the railroads involved, and a really remarkable express car service, has made possible this phenomenal baby industry.

Today this lush infant is so sizeable that it is the best paying customer of the American Railway Express Company at San Francisco, paying as much as $5,000 a day for its services. So the express service initiated to carry California gold, still carries gold, and it's the gold of the golden chrysanthemum and the golden feathery plumage of the acacia.

Kiwanis Governor Speaker at Club

Frank Boren, lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district, was the speaker at the Redwood City Kiwanis club at its weekly meeting Wednesday noon at the parish house. His topic was "Kiwanis Ideals" and was handled in a capable and interesting manner. The chairman of the meeting was J. D. Hedge, a former president of the local club.

The president J. E. Layne, introduced two new members of the club, Helton Rhodes, formerly a member of the club. Rhodes is now deputy sheriff, and Rev. C. E. Winning, pastor of the Methodist church, formerly a member of the Kiwanis club of Reno, Nevada.

At the next meeting of the club B. E. Myers and Sam Winklebleck will engage in a debate on the question of whether or not the affirmative and Myers, the negative. It was decided Wednesday to extend an invitation to the members of the Redwood City Exchange club to be present.

Redistricting Matter Filed for Appeal

Judge John F. Davis has filed his transcript on appeal to the supreme court from the decision of Judge Welsh in the county redistricting case. Davis represents the plaintiff, J. M. Petersen, who brought the suit against San Mateo county, to compel the board of supervisors to redistrict the county in accordance with the population. The court's decision was that the supervisors could not be compelled to so redistrict the county but they could do so at their own pleasure.

MANY REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD TRY CHIROPRACTIC

When one certain measure fails to bring desired results, every thinking person naturally turns to something else. This holds true in everything in life.

If your pen fails to write, you select another. If your merchant hasn't in stock what you want, you go to one who has. Your home is too small, you seek larger quarters. If one remedy fails to give relief in sickness you try another.

The failure of one thing to bring satisfying results constitutes a real reason for the trial of another.

In the past few years there have been thousands of cases cured by CHIROPRACTIC, where medicine has been given a timely trial and proved an absolute failure—therefore there are thousands of reasons why you should try CHIROPRACTIC.

These reasons are not theoretical—they are practical. They are not abstract principals—they are concrete facts. They are not advanced by CHIROPRACTORS, they are given by medical doctors.

In studying many medical books written by the best medical authorities, you will find opposite the names of hundreds of diseases one or more quotations to the effect that little or nothing can be done for them by medicine.

Are you suffering from any of these? Then try CHIROPRACTIC, for medicine is confessedly a failure in all of these. And the reason is not far to seek. In every one of these diseases relief can come upon removal of the cause of the disorder.

This is exactly why CHIROPRACTIC succeeds—because it removes the cause which is deficient nerve supply of the affected parts.

Black Gowns Are Smart

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

which attest the good style of this model.

The interesting flare treatment given to the hemline of this Paris-made black dinner gown is characteristic of the spring and summer style trend of all sheer frocks. These fluttering silhouettes are indeed in promise to the point of exaggeration.

Filmy scarfs, which are not accessory but are interwoven details of the frocks themselves, flourish drapes which are brought about the shoulders to tie at the front with long streaming ends, deep transparent capes, panels which fall over unseamed arms, equally as flattering devices will give sheer prints or plain chiffons either in black or in enchanting colors, the allurements of a truly feminine styling.

Polo Ponies

The Field says that the superhigh-priced mounts used for polo are never allowed to get out of condition. As soon as the matches are over, the shoes are taken off and the ponies turned loose in a soft soil grass paddock, which is free from stone. Two or three months later they are shipped South, and worked into condition for the early spring matches.

Should Keep Record of Family Expenses

(Prepared by the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.)

The woman in the home partnership often handles the greater part of the family money and keeps the accounts. The bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture believes in keeping records of family expenditures for the same reasons that business accounting is considered important. The various groups of home expenses—food, housing, clothing, and so on—may be compared to the different sections of a business enterprise. With but a satisfactory system of records there would be no way for the business man to know which departments were well managed and which needed to be reduced. In a similar way any group of household expenses must stay within the budget for that group. It is not enough, therefore, merely to list home expenditures in miscellaneous order and add them up. They must be classified under definite heads, so that they can be analyzed, and used as a guide to future spending.

To simplify the homemaker's task in keeping track of household expenditures, the bureau of home economics has planned a loose-leaf account book with marginal indexes and concise directions for entering expenditures under the correct heads. There are pages for estimating the yearly income and probable expenditures, for recording insurance and investments, for making a summary of property owned and a household inventory.

TIPS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

To seal a bottle dip the neck, cork and all, in melted paraffin.

Prevent wash-day backaches by setting the wash tub at the right height. The top of the tub should come to the bend of the hips.

Left-over jelly may be used on top of a ball of cottage cheese served with a salad or on half a slice of orange as a garnish for the meat plate.

When hanging very fine materials on the line to dry, protect them from tearing by fastening an extra cloth under the clothesline. This is especially useful in winter when they freeze and tear easily.

Every child likes to have a place reserved especially for his toys and treasures. An attractive and inexpensive play box can be made of a sturdy packing box covered with colored pictures from magazines and these coated with shellac.

Special pages are furnished for farm families who depend in part on home-grown products.

The account book may be purchased for 50 cents in cash from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. The Department of Agriculture has no supply for free distribution.

CANNED VEGETABLES

One need not be confined to a half dozen vegetables even in winter, for we have such well-canned food that it is often better than the fresh.

Asparagus Loaf.—Mix two cupsful of canned asparagus tips with half a cupful of dried bread crumbs, add three tablespoons of melted butter with one cupful of hot milk, a fourth teaspoonful of paprika, one egg slightly beaten and one hard-boiled egg coarsely chopped. Add salt and pepper and mix the ingredients. Turn into a buttered casserole and bake one hour. Serve with hollandaise sauce.

Corn and Potato Scallop.—Place in alternate layers in a buttered baking dish one cupful of canned corn and four medium-sized cooked potatoes, sliced. Sprinkle each layer with salt and pepper; dot with bits of butter, add a little sugar, leaving the potato for the top layer. Pour over a cupful of hot cream and add grated cheese, sprinkled generously over the top. Brown in a quick oven.

Asparagus in Pepper Cases.—Cook small sweet green peppers in boiling salted water after removing the stems and seeds. Drain and fill with canned asparagus tips which have been mixed with a well-seasoned white sauce. Butter bread crumbs and sprinkle well over the top. Bake in a hot oven until brown.

Apples Royal.—Take winesap apples of uniform size, peel and steam until they can be pierced with a straw. Soak ten cents' worth of cinnamon candles in cold water to cover until dissolved. Pour into the apple dish. Cool and put on ice until ready to serve. Mix mayonnaise with celery and pecans and pour over the apples.

finish cooking. Serve at once.

An Easy Way to Make Salad Dressing.—Take one egg, two tablespoonsful of sugar, one and one-half teaspoonsful of salt, two tablespoonsful of mustard, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of paprika, one-fourth cupful of vinegar, three-fourths of a cupful of vegetable oil, one cupful of cold water, and four tablespoonsful of cornstarch. Put the egg, seasoning, sugar and vinegar with the oil into a mixing bowl, but do not stir. Make a paste of the cornstarch and a little water, then add the rest of the cupful; cook until the cornstarch is well cooked, stirring constantly, then add the hot mixture to the bowl and beat well with an egg beater until thick. Cool before using.

Mushroom Broth.—Cook together for ten minutes one stalk of celery, one cupful of mushrooms minced, and five cupfuls of chicken stock; add such seasonings as needed, strain and add an envelope of gelatin which has been softened in one cupful of cold water. Serve in bouillon cups with a spoonful of whipped cream on top of each cup.

Information on Fitting Dresses and Blouses

(Prepared by the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.)

If you have had trouble in fitting dresses on yourself or on anyone else in the family, it may have been because you were not quite sure where to take in or let out to get the proper "hang" or "set" of the part of the garment that was wrong. You will find Farmers' Bulletin 1330F, "Fitting Dresses and Blouses," which has been issued recently by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture exactly what you need.

Suppose, for example, you have just basted up a dress and the skirt swings out in the front. The two illustrations given here show a dress which had this defect and which was corrected by the following method:

The entire back of the dress was raised 1½ inches and the front edge of the underarm seam was eased onto the back edge for several inches below the armhole. This treatment was necessary because of the border on the bottom of the dress. The armhole of the dress was recut, and the sleeve was cut out three-fourths of an inch lower than the arm. When the shoulder line was correctly placed, the top trimmed and the collar put back, the dress hung perfectly.

Another way would have been to open the underarm seam its entire length and to take a dart three to five inches long parallel to the floor on the front edge at the belt line or at the fullest part of the bust. One or more darts in either of these places, or both, are especially needed in dresses for stout figures, but a small dart under the arm improves the hang of any dress. The width of the darts will vary with the figure and with the number needed. Sometimes gathers are used, as in the illustration, but they are not so satisfactory unless the fullness is slight.

der line was correctly placed, the top trimmed and the collar put back, the dress hung perfectly.

Two-thirds of a large group of women reached in a recent survey of clothing practices reported that they made nine or more kinds of garments for their families, according to the bureau of home economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Nearly 2,000 women were included in this survey. They represented communities ranging from less than $1,000 to over $5,000.

In most cases the largest percentage of women making garments for women and girls were in the rural districts and the small towns. It was also found that a large percentage of women with a small income are making garments at home than those having large incomes. More than 80 per cent of the women in this survey were making house dresses, summer wash dresses, aprons and nightgowns for girls and women. The percentage making children's clothes decreased as the size of the community increased, and in most cases as the income increased.

Helps Train Aviators

Candidates for army air officers' commissions go to school in the clouds at a midwestern flying field, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. A plane that holds six students, an instructor and pilot has been fitted with comfortable, padded chairs, a blackboard, and other equipment, and while the ship sails along the teacher gives lectures with the aid of the board and the class makes notes and reports. Each passenger wears a parachute and both doors of the plane are fitted with ladders which can be pulled to cause the doors to fall clear for a ready exit in case of trouble.

Many Delicious Ways of Serving Cranberry Dishes

People are beginning to realize that cranberries may be used during a number of months, as well as at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and also that there are many good ways of serving them beside making them in sauce or jelly. Those who like a little tart pie will enjoy one made of cranberries. The recipe is given in the bureau of home economics.

Smart cran- 2 tablespoonsful butter
2 cupsful ¼ teaspoonful salt
1 cupful water Pastry
Bake from berries and wash them, rejecting all that are withered. Prepare a sirup of the sugar, water, salt, and when the sugar is dissolved, add the fruit and cook for five minutes. Line a pie tin with pastry, pour in the cranberries. Place the upper crust after moistening lower rim and press the edges together to hold in the juices. Cut a slit to allow the steam to escape. Bake until the crust is golden brown.

High in Food Value

Bananas are high in food value. Because of the starch and sugar they contain, they may be regarded as a good source of energy. Baked bananas may be served in place of a starchy vegetable with meat or as a dessert. The bureau of home economics gives the following method of preparing them as dessert.

Baked Bananas With Lemon Sauce. 6 ripe bananas 2 tablespoons 1-3 cup sugar lemon juice 2 tablespoons melt- ¼ teaspoon salt ed butter
Skin the bananas, scrape them lightly to remove the stringy portion and split them in half lengthwise. Place in a greased shallow baking dish and pour over them the liquid mixture. Bake in a hot oven until brown. Serve from the dish.

Children's Bedtime Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

So little work these days I feel as if I didn't know any of the letter Z. The other letters of the alphabet said, "We were going to tell us 'your' and the letter S. 'Well,' agreed the letter Z. 'You say,' the others urged. 'The letter S that has caused the trouble,' said the letter Z. The letter S giggled and wriggled and turned and said: 'I beg your pardon, letter Z. I am not a letter S. I am a letter Z. I have meant no harm.' 'Some at all,' said the letter Z. 'I sure you have meant no harm. And you needn't beg my pardon. It isn't your fault.' 'You can't rule teachers and parents writers and students. You do what you can for them, that is all. But think about it, letters, and you'll understand.' 'I don't think of the number of words used to need my letter in them. I know they have put the letter S in them.' 'I beg your pardon, letter Z. I am not a letter S. I am a letter Z. MENLO PARK

To the Voters Thanks

To the Citizens of the Menlo Park Sanitary District: I wish to thank you for your support in my election as a member of the Sanitary Board, and I will endeavor to so act that I may merit the confidence you have placed in me.

JOHN B. GLUNZ

J. G. Mason Retires

All the citizens in the Menlo Park school district have united on F. W. Johnson, the popular roadmaster, to be voted for on March 20. He has consented to run and he will be the only candidate in the field. Mr. Mason will not be a candidate. He has held the office for the past twenty-five years, with credit to himself and to the taxpayers. In his retirement he carries with him the best wishes of the people of the district. Mr. Johnson until recently, was trustee of the Los Lomas district for a number of years, filling the office to the satisfaction of everyone.

Judge Shurtliff for Trustee

The people of this city should give Judge Shurtliff a rousing vote for trustee of Sequoia Union High School on March 30. It ought to be unanimous. He will be a credit to the board and to the district.

The following were appointed on the board of election, at a salary of $10 each: Mrs. Bower, Judge; Miss Noel, Inspector; Mrs. Worrell, Mrs. Shover and Mrs. Aabel.

V. Arata was appointed garbage collector and is to work under the direction of the council. His charges are to be fifty cents a month for a twenty gallon can of garbage to be removed once a week, larger amounts in proportion. Arata is to be responsible to the council for his work.

A garbage ordinance will be presented to the council at the next meeting. The nuisance ordinance was introduced and discussed at length and will be adopted at the next meeting of the council.

Harcorn reported that he had consulted with Mr. Cox of the Pelton Gables property facing on the central avenue regarding the improvement of that thoroughfare. The Pelton Gables Company agree to improve the street looking to the city for its share of the expense. The county is also to do its share. Harcorn will further report next week. He also explained that the street sign on Chestnut street would be put up this week.

Dr. W. H. Zehner was appointed city health officer to serve without compensation. James Barba was appointed poundmaster to serve temporarily. Barba was present and caused quite a ripple of laughter when he stated that there were two butchers in a nearby town who would buy all the dogs he could bring them.

The council will soon sit as a board of equalization to hear any and all complaints against the license tax and endeavor to adjust any differences that may exist and remove any unjust obstacle. Harcorn said that some of the merchants were dissatisfied with the rate and were finding fault, although they were notified when the passage of the license ordinance was pending, but did not appear and make the proper protest. The council thought that by this means a solution of the problem could be reached.

The council will be present to make a protest when the State Railway Commission is here on April 9 to act on the application of the Bear Gulch Water Company to raise its present rates. A number of protests from the wealthy residents of Atherton and other localities will also be heard at that time. A representative of

Monastery About Completed

The new Corpus Christi Monastery is about completed. It is to be occupied by the nuns on March 25. A new board fence is being erected around a portion of the property. There will be no fence on Oak Grove avenue. It is said the nuns contemplate the building of a retreat house for ladies, facing on Oak Grove avenue in the near future. It will be a costly structure.

John W. Morey, the widely-known cement contractor of Atherton, has announced his candidacy for supervisor of the Third township. The primary election will take place in the latter part of August. Morey will make a lively campaign. He has many friends in the township.
